

It Pays to Train Your Staff!

With typical lawsuit settlements and license suspensions costing thousands of dollars, you can't afford not to train your security staff. Insurance companies recognize that having a trained security staff can reduce the number of claims and lawsuits – that's why some insurers will actually pay up to half the cost of training your staff through the TOSS Program!

Some insurance companies value the TOSS Program so highly, in fact, that they provide discounts of up to 50% on general liability assault and battery coverage to businesses that train their security staff with TOSS!

With subsidized training and major insurance premium discounts, TOSS training is an affordable, professional program that no nightclub or entertainment industry establishment should be without.

Protect Your Business

Did you know that two-thirds of nightclub liability claims result from assault and battery charges made by patron on patron or against security staff? Without the proper training, your safety personnel are leaving themselves – and your business – unprotected from expensive lawsuits, or the possibility of a costly licensing board suspension or revocation.

TOSS Your Cares Away

Don't let an unexpected lawsuit threaten your livelihood or the success of your establishment. SLRA's TOSS Program offers the professional training your security team needs in order to do their jobs safely and effectively.

Designed with input from nightclub security veterans as well as medical experts, sociologists, insurance companies, martial artists and members of the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department, the TOSS Program will train your frontline staff in the verbal de-escalation skills and ejection techniques that will protect your patrons and your business.
